

Democrats Are Determined on Health Plan

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders were reported determined today to get congressional action in this session on a program to provide health assistance for the elderly.

Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) and Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas were said to be working on a compromise plan which would provide federal assistance for hospitalization, nursing home care and possibly some other benefits for those over 65.

Whether this would be linked to the Social Security System or handled through a separate agency apparently has not been determined. In any event, it seems likely to be offered in a form that would avoid a "socialized medicine" tag.

Hospitalization and nursing home care were said to account for about 80 per cent of the health expenditures for the elderly. Because of this, Rayburn and Johnson were reported giving this part of the field their immediate attention.

President Eisenhower has ordered a study of proposals for health, hospital and medical care for the elderly. Although Vice President Richard M. Nixon obviously wants action in this session, there is doubt the administration will offer any concrete plan.

Eight GOP senators have offered a program for federal-state subsidies to pay the cost of private health insurance for persons over 65 unable to afford it. They have not yet obtained administration support.

Rayburn and Johnson apparently aim to try to show that the Democratic-controlled Congress is willing to act in this situation where the President is not.

Forest Fires Under Control

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The forest fire situation in South Arkansas has been brought under control but the State Forestry Department reported today that three major fires still burned in the northern part of the state.

The big fires were in the Salcm, Mountain View and Hardy areas. A department spokesman said 15 to 20 smaller fires were burning in other sections of Arkansas today.

So far this month, 899 fires have swept over 86,997 acres at a cost of $1,740,000.

State Forester Fred Lang said the situation remains dangerous because of winds and low humidity.

Leaders See Rights Bill During April

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders predicted today the civil rights bill will be on President Eisenhower's desk before the end of this month.

They anticipated that after an Easter recess the House will convene in Senate amendments to the original House bill. The Senate passed the amended bill 71-18 Friday night.

While Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) of the House Rules Committee declined to say when his group would consider the amended measure, reliable sources said Smith's committee probably would take action by April 20.

Once the rules committee gives its approval, House leaders could call for a final House vote at any time. House approval of the Senate amendments would automatically send the bill to the President.

Because many members may be out of town during the Easter season, a final House vote may be put off until the week of April 24.

Spa GOPs Call for Candidates

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The Garland County Republican Central Committee is advertising for candidates in this year's county elections.

The committee, in an advertisement in yesterday's Sentinel Record-New Era, said it would back any qualified candidate who wants to run as a Republican.

It said recent Garland County Grand Jury indictments of a number of persons, including former Tax Collector Ray Owen and County Judge H. C. Warren "raise a serious question as to whether the Democratic machine in power during the past decade can or will field candidates deserving of election to public office."

The indictments included charges of embezzlement and misconduct in office. None of those indicted has come to trial. All have pleaded innocent.

$26,000 Personal Injury Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A federal court jury began hearing testimony today in a $26,000 personal injury suit filed by a Kansas woman against a Faulkner County man.

Mrs. Ruby Faye Pitts of Hutchinson, Kan., contended she stopped her automobile on Highway 65 between Conway and Little Rock April 2, 1957, when a construction worker signaled a halt.

She charged T. J. Rappold, the defendant, was driving a pickup truck which hit the rear of her car. Mrs. Pitts said in the suit that she suffered back and neck injuries as a result of negligence.

U.S. District Judge Gordon E. Young presided.

Warns Public of Uncovered Water Wells

Sheriff Jimmie Griffin and Deputy Prosecuting Attorney John L. Wilson, today issued the following statement concerning open wells:

"It has been brought to our attention that there are many open (dug) wells located on un-enclosed property owned by individuals in Hempstead County. Now, this is a direct violation of the law, in addition to being a very dangerous situation. In addition to making the owner of said lands on which open wells are found; subject to a damage suit in the event someone is injured, the law also inflicts a severe penalty for anyone permitting these conditions to exist.

It has also been brought to our attention that some persons have been throwing dead animals into these open wells. This, too, is a violation of the law. We hope that everyone will cooperate by locating these old abandoned wells and taking steps to see that they are properly covered or filled up.

Hope Station Robbed of $145 to $200

A service station attendant was held up and robbed of between $135 and $200 here last night, Police Chief Jack Brown said.

Glen Scoggins, about 21, who works at the Rocket Service Station on East Third Street, told officers a man walked into his station about 9:55 last night, held a pistol on him and demanded all the money. He handed it over. The man left on foot, Scoggins said.

Chief Brown said the man appeared to be between 18 and 22 years of age, was wearing blue jeans and a suede jacket, blonde and bareheaded, according to Scoggins' report.

To Declare Dividend

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — General Waterworks Corp. asked the Arkansas Public Service Commission for authority to declare a stock dividend with an estimated value of $1,724,000.

The firm operates in Pine Bluff and seven other Arkansas municipalities.

General Waterworks wants to issue three shares of common stock for each 50 shares outstanding at present.

Charge Filed After Auto Accident

Sunday at Walnut and West Avenue B. autos driven by Mrs. Glenda Ferguson and R. R. Gillespie collided with very heavy damage resulting. City Police reported today.

Officers Moses and Clark charged Gillespie with hazardous driving following an investigation.

Court Right in Not Dropping Assessments

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today held that Phillips Circuit Court was correct in refusing to reduce a tax assessment of New St. Mary's Gin, Inc.

The high court, however, did not pass on the merits of the case, but said instead that the gin company had taken the wrong legal route.

New St. Mary's contended that it was over-assessed more than 100 per cent by failure of the Phillips tax assessor to follow values and procedures set out in a manual issued by the Assessment Co-ordination Division in connection with the statewide property reassessment program.

The assessment was $48,000. If the manual had been followed, the assessment would have been $23,800, the company said.

The company complained that the Arkansas Appraisal Service Co., Inc. was hired by Phillips County to appraise county property for tax purposes and that the appraisal made by the private service was too high but was adopted by the Assessor and approved by the Equalization Board.

The gin company petitioned circuit court for an order reducing the assessment.

Assessor C. L. Moore and other officials replied that the mandamus suit was not a proper action. Judge Elmo Taylor agreed and sustained the officials. New St. Mary's appealed to the Supreme Court.

The high court said the gin company should have appealed its assessment to Phillips County Court, which would have been the customary procedure in a disputed tax matter.

The company cited sections of the reassessment act which it said made its circuit court suit proper procedure.

The Supreme Court, in a unanimous opinion by Justice Sam Robinson, said these sections did not apply in a case of this type.

Suspension of Judge in High Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today took under submission an appeal from a Garland Circuit Court order upholding suspended County Judge H. C. Warren in his firing of the board of county-owned Quachita General Hospital at Hot Springs.

That means an opinion could be handed down as early as next Monday.

Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs said Warren had the authority to remove the board.

However, he permitted the board to remain in office pending disposition of the appeal.

In another phase of the controversy between Warren and the board, the Supreme Court recently upheld the hospital directors in a disputed land purchase but voided a hospital laundry contract with a board member.

Warren since has been suspended from office following his indictment on several charges of official misconduct.

Another appeal taken under submission was that of Larry Covey from a four-year sentence for voluntary manslaughter imposed in Miller Circuit Court.

This appeal was argued orally today.

Covey, 21, shot and killed William Short at a Texarkana drive-in last Oct. 22.

Covey originally was charged, with first degree murder, but a jury convicted him of the lesser charge of manslaughter.

Library Week at Emmet School

The Elementary School at Emmet celebrated National Library Week with an assembly program Thursday, April 7.

Mrs. Lawrence's first and second grades gave a dramatization of "The Three Bears," reviews of their favorite books and sang songs from their music books.

The third and fourth grades under the direction of Miss Fee, dramatized "Little Black Sambo," and gave several book reviews and sang their favorite songs.

Mrs. Arnett's fifth and sixth grades gave an excellent portrayal of Tom Sawyer. They also gave book reviews and sang songs.

Humphrey Is Happy Over Reception

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP) — Hubert Humphrey, exuberant over the reception of his presidential campaign in West Virginia, said today "we're starting here like we finished up in Wisconsin."

This was a follow-up to earlier comments that he got a late start in Wisconsin, but was riding the crest at the windup of the campaign which was decided last Tuesday in favor of his rival, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.).

The Minnesota senator, campaigning for support in the May 10 primary, was asked how he felt about his reception in the West Virginia coal fields.

"It's just like I told my wife," Humphrey replied, "I felt like Caesar—one long triumphant procession."

Mrs. Humphrey was with her husband today as he started out on the last leg of another day's campaigning that will wind up in Beckley tonight.

The Humphreys had rolled along little traveled roads through the bituminous coal fields of Logan, Mingo, McDowell and Mercer counties.

The bus made its customary stops at every wide place in the road, just as it did Friday and Saturday. Humphrey flew back to Washington to spend Sunday, but was back on his chartered bus schedule at day break this morning.

Berserk Man Shoots His Mother Here

A 27-year-old man, Jerry Bowden, went berserk Saturday at the home of his parents about 10 miles south of Hope, and critically wounded his mother and fired three shots at his father.

Mrs. J. C. Bowden, 47, was shot three times in the stomach and chest and remained in critical condition today at a local hospital although her condition was improved Monday.

Sheriff Jimmie Griffin said no charge had been filed against the son, who has been taken to the Arkansas State Hospital at Little Rock for a mental examination. He said Bowden had been under treatment of a psychiatrist for some time.

The shooting occurred at the family home after the father and son got into an argument. Officers said. The younger Bowden walked into his room, got the pistol and came to the door and started shooting. Police reported.

J. C. Bowden, the father, fell to the floor when his son began firing and all three shots went wild. The older Bowden suffered a minor wound on the ear during a struggle with his son for the gun, a .22 calibre pistol. The son then turned the gun on his mother.

Officers could give no immediate explanation for the shooting.

Africa Leader Worse Than First Believed

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Phil Oliver Sauer, chief of the Nationalist Party in Parliament, took over today as government leader in place of wounded Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd. Sauer promptly pledged to carry on Verwoerd's apartheid policies.

Sauer, 62, is Minister of Lands in the Cabinet. He takes over the helm as senior member of the Cabinet, but will not serve as acting prime minister. Foreign Minister Eric Louw said. But Sauer will preside at Cabinet meetings.

Sauer told Parliament the government will continue on its regular program and Verwoerd's course, adding "the rest of the Cabinet, but will not serve as an order are maintained."

"As far as Parliament is concerned there will not be any deviations from the existing program as a result of what has happened," Sauer declared.

Even as Sauer spoke South Africa's white police and courts continued to take sharp action to quell racial strife and continuing Negro work boycotts against white supremacy laws.

Verwoerd continued to show progress in a Pretoria hospital from two head wounds, inflicted Saturday by a wealthy white farmer. An antigovernment newspaper suggested he may have been injured more severely than his doctors admit.

The Rand Daily Mail said the two bullets "may have caused damage which could impair his speech, his sense of balance, his hearing and possibly his mental state for some time."

A medical bulletin said Verwoerd is still weak but making progress, adding: "Reassurance can be given that there is no sign of paralysis and, according to the progress made so far, paralysis is not expected."

Verwoerd's assassin, David Pratt, 52, had not appeared for arraignment in Johannesburg Magistrate's Court by late afternoon. Legal authorities were reported to be debating what charges should be brought.

Teams of detectives revisited the scene of the shooting—Johannesburg's Union Exposition Trade and Agriculture Fair.

Authorities in the midst of the crisis pressed their crackdown on Negro resistance to South Africa's segregation policy.

A large force of armed police, supported by armored cars, staged big door-to-door raids on a sprawling Negro settlement five miles outside Johannesburg.

Scores of Africans were hauled away in police trucks. Many weapons were reported taken in what Col. J. C. Lemmer, deputy commissioner of police described as "a cleanup operation."

Reports from Port Elizabeth of the south coast said 26 Negroes were arrested there on charges of incitement and intimidation.

There has been no indication Pratt had any accomplices, but detectives search several homes in the Johannesburg area in connection with the shooting. One friend said Pratt "hates Nationalists, and Verwoerd is nationalist No. 1."

Other friends of Pratt, a gentleman farmer, said he had shown no political leanings and described him as "a nice, courteous and very generous man."

Graveside Service for Mrs. Johnson

Graveside services for Mrs. Willie Hart Johnson, who passed away after a long illness on April 1 at the Elmhurst Memorial Hospital, Elmhurst, Ill., were conducted at 2 p.m. Saturday, April 9 at Rose Hill Cemetery with Herndon-Cornelius Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

The Rev. Rufus Sorrells conducted the services at which the ashes of the deceased were interred.

Survivors include her husband, Lawley Johnson of Elmhurst; two sisters, Mrs. Howell Myers of Dallas and Mrs. Henry Hertz of Princeton, Ill.; and two brothers, Clyde Hart of Alexandria, La. and Duke Hart of Monroe, La.

Commentary on News Over World

Foreign News Commentary
By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

From the Foreign Editor's Notebook:

ADENAUER-KHRUSHCHEV:

Looking for a hastily arranged meeting between Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer — possibly just before the start of the Paris East-West summit meeting in May. Diplomats say Khrushchev is favorably inclined toward a conference with Adenauer, the only major Western leader who has not huddled with the Kremlin boss in preparation for the summit.

PHILIPPINE-WEST GERMAN:

West Germany is making a quiet, effective play for expanded business in the Philippines — mostly at the expense of American firms. And the outlook seems very encouraging for the Germans. The current tug-of-war is for establishment of a steel mill in the Philippines. There is little doubt that the Germans will underbid the United States. Ironically, most of the dollars to pay for it come from the United States.

DE GAULLE REMAINS FIRM:

French President Charles de Gaulle can be expected to make a strong pitch against any weakening of the Western stand on Europe in general and Germany in particular during his forthcoming visit to the United States.
Reports from Washington that the West might agree to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany if the East Germans vote in favor of it caused major alarm in French official circles.

PLAIN TALKING:

There will be some plain talking to South Africa's Premier Hendrik Verwoerd at the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference in London May 3-13. Ver-woerd has said he is going to the meeting but indicated that he would not allow any open discussion at the full-dress conference of South Africa's internal racial conflict. He conceded the issue might be reviewed at informal bilateral talks. Macmillan intends to put another warning to Ver-woerd along the lines of his earlier warning during his South African visit in February. But the fireworks are likely to come from other members of the commonwealth — notably India's Jawaharlal Nehru, Ghana's Kwame Nkrumah, and other Afro-Asian leaders.

Ike Fortified With a New Golf Club

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fortified with a new putter "guaranteed" to whittle his golf score, President Eisenhower left today for a vacation at Augusta, Ga.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower look off at 11:02 a.m.
board his plane, Columbine III.
The flight takes about 2 hours.

Shortly before Eisenhower left the White House Rep. J. Arthur Younger (R-Calif.) brought the President a new putter.

"It's guaranteed to take two or three strokes off your game," Younger told the President.

He said the club was designed by Lorin R. Todd, a police lieutenant in Burlingame, Calif.

"It has a rounded face which gives the ball overspin," said Younger, "and it has been approved by the United States Golf Assn."

Eisenhower expects to stay at Augusta, in his cottage at the Augusta National golf course, for a week or 10 days.

Politics and Economy Are Now Mixed

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Good times showing through the economic clouds? Or just a gambit in the political game?

Both explanations are offered today for the U.S. Treasury's failure last week to sell as many long term bonds as it wished at the 4 per cent legal interest limit.

When a financial issue gets mixed up in partisan politics it's hard to glimpse the economics through the oratory. But some investors — torn between the stock market and the bond market — are trying hard to today.

The political opponents are the administration, which seeks to have the interest ceiling abolished, and the proponents of easy credit and low interest charges, who see that as the path to economic growth.

The Treasury holds that the fiscal facts of life make it next to impossible to place a long term bond at 4 per cent, because until recently available yields have been well above that.

Opponents of raising the legal limit says the administration is just trying, through the bond issue's partial failure, to influence Congress to remove the ceiling.

They suggest the Treasury should look for better methods of selling its bonds—methods largely unspecified.

But in the perhaps more detached atmosphere of banking and the failure of Treasury to find seen by many as the cause of customers of more than 370 million dollars of the 1½-billion-dollar offering of 25-year bonds at 4 per cent. The Treasury had said it would be satisfied if it placed 500 million dollars of them.

The argument is that investors aren't looking for a further drop in business activity after the hesitancy of the last two months. Infact, they may be expecting it to pick up. This would create a greater demand for lendable funds. Hence investors would have a good chance of doing better in the future than in tying up their money now in 4 per cent governments.

This optimistic view of a renewed pickup in the business pace isn't shared by everyone. They cite signs that the remainder of the first half of 1960 may see a still further slackening in many lines. They point first to the steel industry where new orders have been disappointing. Auto stocks remain high in spite of the recent spurt in sales. And some point out that the big gain this year has been in sales of the smaller cars where the profit returns to the industry are also smaller.

The more cautious note that last-minute Easter sales will have to show quite a spurt if they are to swing the total sales for this season above the record of last year.

But even the more pessimistic aren't looking for 1960 as a whole to be anything but a good year — not a super-duper as some thought earlier, but a better than average

Financier Dies

year and even a better one than last year.

Investors who hold the more optimistic view of the rest of the year cite these reasons why interest rates may slip no further and perhaps may climb a bit.
Allying all fears of further inflation has turned a sizable amount of money from the stock market where buying is often made as a hedge to inflation — to the bond market. Demand for mortgages is expected to rise. Demand for funds for business expansion may, too. Some lines report new orders picking up a little in recent days.
It could all mean more demand for borrowed money — at rates better than 4½ per cent.

"Aunt Gwen will be healthy for Debbie, like sulphur and molasses, and occasionally the modern child needs to make a little gesture.

Maybe there was too much of it in and before our time. Someone always got lapped for Operation Sacrifice. But what would your mother have done without her sister? Or Dad without Lou?

"I don't know. But there used to be such a waste of woman power and in some instances, man power, too," Rose said. "Still, when I look at the world—"

"Don't," he advised, "except with the bird's-eye view; close-ups are disconcerting."

It was after dinner: Debbie was doing her homework, mainly by telephone; it seemed; Mark and Rose were in the study.

Pete Jackson and his wife Karen were coming over that evening.
"I wish I liked Karen better," Rose remarked.

"Do you like her at all?"

"In a way. Mostly I admire her, like something in a shop window.
She's so decorative—and smooth as glass."

"I like her; and a good many of people live in windows or stall showers."

"Oh, sure, men would like her."
"Do I detect a slight acidity?"
"Naturally. She's so beautiful."
I used to think Pam was the most — when we first knew her, but she isn't as beautiful now as she was then. Karen doesn't change. And her name isn't Karen."

Mark stared at his wife. "How do you know?" he asked. "And if so, what is it?"

"Carrie," said Rose. "She was christened plain Carrie. Pete told me so when he was a little high."

"Last New Years Eve?" asked Mark.

"I was in the kitchen. He wandered out, and after a while he said, 'Maybe I liked my wife better when her name was Carrie.'"

"Why didn't she stay Carrie?"
asked Mark, interested.

"I daresay because she's had to live up to him."

The Jacksons arrived presently.
Karen—once Carrie—was very tall, dark, and polished from the top of her head to her toenails. Her figure was faultless, her voice distinctive, her eyes cool. Pete was a little shorter, dynamic, and merrily, if sporadically, entering. They lived a few miles from the Holmeses, in a house older and with much more ple had money. He was a partner of the firm.

When David Sutton and Mark had originally pooled their resources, it had equaled about Pete's investment. Mark had rowed from his father, and his savings on the waters. He had returned to him for the firm was now prosperous.

The Holmeses and the Jacksons played contract, had drinks, and talked. Rose produced a good Cheddar and water biscuits. It was fairly late when the Jacksons left.

Now Rose said, sighing, "It's so hard to think of anything but Karen for Christmas. She has everything in spades."

"Perfume? She uses a lot of it."

"Oh, so you've noticed?"

"Who wouldn't?" asked Mark.

"FOILED AGAIN!"

they bought an electric water heater"

One of the surest ways to beat Old Man Time to the punch is to install an ELECTRIC water heater next time your old fashioned one gives you trouble. Sure they last longer — far longer — because there's no corroding action of extreme heat on metal to cause burn-outs and leaks. As a matter of fact, the gentle heating action of a modern ELECTRIC water heater is such that these tanks can be guaranteed from 10 to 15 years!

Electric water heating is gentle in its action, but at the same time it's FAST — faster than its competitors. And electricity heats so quickly and efficiently there's always plenty of really HOT water, for every household need.
You can install it anywhere — in a closet, in the attic — for it needs no venting, no watching. It's SAFE! Better think ELECTRIC next time you have trouble with your water heater. It's the better way every time, and it costs less than you think.

"Water heaters earn our lowest rate—ask about it!"

Solves Pedal Problem
TOKYO (AP) — Peiping radio said today a Red Chinese telephone maintenance man has solved the problem of pedaling a bicycle against a strong wind. Yang Hsiu-feng attached a small rotary fan to the handlebars and linked it by chain to the axle, the broadcast explained. The stronger the wind blows, the faster Yang's bike goes. The radio said he can average 11 m.p.h. in the teeth of a gale.

Politicians Move to West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) and Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) both are campaigning in southern West Virginia's coal fields today but they aren't likely to bump into each other.

Kennedy's only stop in the southern fields will be an evening speech at Beckley. Humphrey planned to spend his time in half a dozen southern towns. Beckley wasn't one of them.

It is Kennedy's first serious campaigning for the state's May 10 Democratic presidential primary. Humphrey spent all Friday and Saturday in the state and came back Sunday to appear on a television show.

The primary will not bind any of West Virginia's 25 votes at the Democratic National Convention. Kennedy planned to fly into the Ohio River city of Parkersburg in time for a coffee session and rally before flying south to the capital of Charleston, motor to Huntington, and then flying on to Beckley.

Humphrey scheduled an early departure from Charleston in his chartered bus for stops at Logan, Welch and Bluefield and the smaller towns of Man, Oceana and Pineville.

The Minnesota senator, in his television interview Sunday night, said pictures of some conditions in West Virginia "would make American democracy look pretty sick."

Humphrey referred to the Cabin Creek area about 25 miles south-east of Charleston, where the closing of coal mines has left many unemployed and families are just getting by on free food from the government.

In Washington Sen. Robert C. Byrd (D-W.Va.) said he is trying to make voters in his state aware of the election's national significance. "I imagine if Sen. Kennedy were to win West Virginia, he would be very likely to get the nomination," Byrd said.

He Walked Despite His Injuries
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — After an automobile wreck two years ago, doctor told Lewis Gross of Memphis, Tenn., that he would never walk again.

Yesterday he limped to the foul line at Little Rock's Pleasure Bowling Lanes and took over second place in the All Events Handicap Division of the Southern Bowling Congress Tournament.

Gross, 21, rolled a 2,064, 89 pins behind leader Bob Nystrom of Albany, Ga., who earlier recorded a 2,153.

The young Tennessean suffered a brain concussion and broken limbs in the auto wreck and at first doctors gave him no chance to recover. Later they said he would not walk. But 18 months later he began howling. A stiff left leg makes it necessary for him to walk to the foul line, but his aim is perfect.

The Poplar Tunes team of Memphis took over fifth place in the team division yesterday with a 3,154 total. All the leaders held their positions. Nystrom holds the singles, all events handicap and all events scratch leads. Steve Vacek and Don Jones of Dallas lead in all events handicap and the McCray Real Estate Team of Benton, Ark., holds the team lead.

The tournament runs three more weeks.

Deaths of Noted Persons in U. S.
WASHINGTON (AP) — William McKinley Mooney, 94, who was President Theodore Roosevelt's boxing instructor for two years, died Sunday. Mooney, an amateur boxer, served 45 years in the postal service, including 14 as postmaster of Washington.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Carl Voegtlin, 80, the first head of the National Cancer Institute, died Saturday of a stroke. He had been associated with Johns Hopkins Medical school in Baltimore before joining the U.S. Public Health Service in 1913. He was born in Switzerland.

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — Aubrey S. McLeod, 66, one of the first Americans wounded seriously after the United States entered World War I, died Saturday of a coronary occlusion. He had been chief economist for the weekly magazine U.S. News & World Report since 1941 and at one time worked for the U.S. Treasury Department. He was born in Boston.

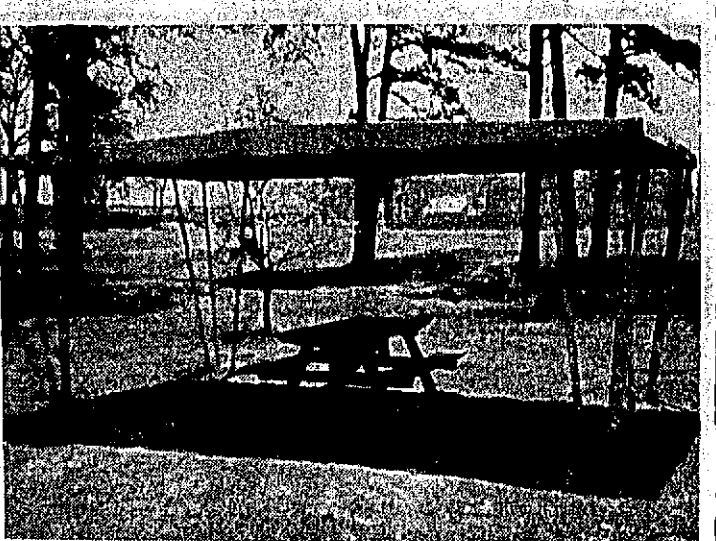

NEWTON, Mass. (AP) — Dr. Edward Ray Speare, 67, a retired industrialist and long-time treasurer of Boston University, died Saturday.

President Eisenhower, after graduation from Abilene, Kan., High School, was first appointed to Annapolis. But he was 21, a year too old to enter the naval academy. So the appointment was changed to West Point where he could begin at 22.

Kiwanians Help Young Folks

ABOVE IS A PICTURE OF THE NEW PLAYGROUND area, also installed Friday, at K. Park by the Hope Kiwanis Club. The equipment includes a glider and hobby horse swing set in candy striped colors and a steel and fiber glass slide of very modern design. The slide is engineered from a safety standpoint with appeal to even the very small tots. This equipment was purchased by the Kiwanis Club and donated to the Parks and Recreation Dept. by funds derived from the annual Kiwanis Minstrel. This new playground area will serve smaller children while parents and older brothers or sisters are attending the baseball games. It didn't take the kids long to find it.

ABOVE IS A PICTURE OF THE NEW ALUMINUM AND steel park shelter just installed at the Fair Park directly south-east of the swimming pool. The shelter does much to add to the attractiveness of the park and will help take the load off of the old bandstand shelter on the north side of the park. The shelter will serve two cooking pits.

THIS PICTURE SHOWS THE RESPONSE, ONLY MINUTES after it was set up, to the new Hobby Horse swing set erected at Fair Park Friday. The swing set includes six fiber glass Hobby Horses with red and white candy striped standards. All of the playground equipment in the park has been candy striped to match the new pieces.

Rotarian Entertain Rotary Annas
The dining room of the Lee Hotel was the scene of the gathering of 76 Rotarians, wives and guests for the annual Rotary Ann dinner on Tuesday evening. The ladies were presented a corsage by Mrs. Horace McKenzie and Mrs. J. T. McKee in charge of the flower committee. The tables were decorated with beautiful spring flowers with place cards colored in blue and gold with Rotary emblem with words of the object of Rotary "Service Before Self."

The meeting was called to order by President John McKee. Rev. J. H. Robertson gave the invocation.

The Colter Combo string band of Ouachita and Henderson Colleges directed by David Hanning gave several numbers. After the group had completed dinner members introduced their guests and the Rotary Annas.

Horace McKenzie introduced the speaker, Rev. J. M. Hamilton a retired Methodist minister of 45 years service now living at Arkadelphia.

Mrs. Scott Entertains '37 Contract Club
Mrs. Al Williams, Mrs. Vernon Buchanan, Mrs. Basil Munn, Mrs. Jim Nelson, Mrs. Clark White and Mrs. Guss McCaskill were club guests when Mrs. S. B. Scott entertained the '37 Contract Club with a dessert-bridge at her home on Tuesday.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with arrangements of jonquils, narcissus and hyacinths placed at vantage points. Vases of narcissus centered the tables for the dessert course.

Mrs. Ralph Gordon won the high score prize. Other members included Mrs. D. L. McKee Jr., Mrs. J. H. Bemis, Mrs. A. V. Hegner, Mrs. Tom Bemis, Mrs. Jack Harrell, Mrs. Darrell Marsh, Mrs. George Christopher and Mrs. Mark Justus.

Remarks That Psychiatrists Are Tired Of

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that psychiatrists get tired of hearing: "What do you guys really think about while patients are telling you their troubles?"

"How come you charge my wife $30 an hour to listen to her — and I've been listening to her 25 years for nothing?"

"Enough of my worries, doc. Now you lie down on the couch and tell me what's on your mind."

"There's nothing really wrong with me, I'm just a crazy, mixed up kid."

"No, he's not a real doctor, he's one of those head shrinkers."

"Now don't you try to tell me I secretly hated my mother. Why, when she died, I bought her the biggest headstone in the cemetery."

"Ever since I got that letter from the Internal Revenue Service, I've had the feeling I'm being followed. Is that a delusion of persecution, or a delusion of grandeur?"

"Night after night I have this weird dream of flying through the air with my neighbor's wife. I can't understand it. She's the homeliest dame in the block."

"Before I lie down, I'd like to ask you one thing. Do you accept credit cards?"

"My problem is that lately my wife seems to be getting better looking. Do you think it's my eyes that are going — or could it be my mind?"

"It's about my husband. He mumbles in his sleep. No, I don't want to cure him. I just want you to find a way to make him speak more clearly."

"You're my last hope, doc. Just answer me one question. Can psychiatry help baldness?"

"You psychiatrists must have your own troubles, to. Who do you tell them to?"

"We have a mother-in-law problem in our home. Whose story do you want to listen to first — hers, my wife's or mine?"

"It's about my drinking. After my eighth martini, my mind begins to wander. Do you think I should switch to vodka?"

"Can a neurosis cause fat? The reason I ask is — ever since my wife started acting neurotic I've been putting on weight."

"Now don't tell me what I need is a new hobby. My husband has a new hobby, and that's why I'm here. His hobby is his secretary."

"The way I diagnose it myself is that I've got an inferiority complex. Lately I've been getting the feeling I'm dumber than my boss."

DOROTHY DIX

Adulthood Is a Trying Time

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I gave my 12-year old daughter permission to go to a friend's home, the bargain being she was to come home at seven o'clock to get her Saturday night chores finished.

Then the girl friend called, asked for my husband, and asked if my daughter could stay until nine o'clock. He said yes.

I was deeply hurt. My husband wouldn't let me call our daughter back and wouldn't go for her. I have forbidden her to go back to this friend's. Please give me your advice. I say a bargain is a bargain. — Another Mother

Dear Another Mother: Your 12-year old is passing from childhood to adolescence. You will lose all authority if you continue to treat her as a child. Don't bargain, reason. Her actions will baffle herself and everybody else for the next few years. She will demand the right to lead her own life while running to your arms for protection.

To forbid her to see her girl friend only widens the gulf between you. Your lenient husband, not the girl friend, is the culprit. Evidently he thinks you over-severe. But unless you two see eye to eye, the going will be hard. At best, the process of growing up is rough on all concerned. Take the situation in your stride and keep your sense of humor.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I have four children and as far as I know they were all born ahead of time. I'm positive about my first because I was only married eight and a half months before she came and I didn't have to get married. However, every once in awhile I hear some one say all babies take nine months. Am I a freak or something? — Puzzled

Dear Puzzled: No, you are not a freak. While the normal period of gestation is nine months, a conception does not always result in a full-term baby. Several years ago I wrote an article on infant babies for the Reader's Digest. Every hospital I visited had its share of premature babies. I sent a photograph of my 10-year old daughter to a Hollywood company after seeing their ad saying that big prices are paid for children's photographs to be used in advertising. I thought I would be paid for the use of my child's photo. Instead, I was asked to pay to have it published. Is that the way to control advertisers? — Mrs. HARRY HARRIN

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper. (Released by The Bell Syndicate)

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain
New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name PRESTRESS II. At your druggist. Money back guarantee.

Smoking Is Linked to Lung Cancer

By DAVE LEHERR
PITTSBURGH (AP)—A specialist in internal medicine and therapeutics testified today that smoking is "definitely" related to lung cancer.

Dr. William F. Kremer of Hinesdale, N.Y., medical director of the Denver Chemical Corp., told a jury in a civil suit: "In all my knowledge, I have never found a case of confirmed epidermoid lung cancer that did not also have a history of heavy smoking."
Dr. Kremer, a graduate of the University of Amsterdam Medical School, testified in U.S. District Court in the damage suit of a Pittsburgh cabinetmaker against the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. The plaintiff, Otto Pritchard, 61, of Pittsburgh, seeks $1,250,000 in damages. He claims he contracted lung cancer by smoking Chesterfield cigarettes for 23 years.
Dr. Kremer said that he has been connected with "some 15 to 20 cases of epidermoid lung cancer."
"Experience showed that all these cases admitted smoking a pack or more of cigarettes a day. There is a definite relationship between the smoking habits and this bronchogenic-type lung cancer," he said.
Under cross-examination, Dr. Kremer admitted "I have done no research on cancer causation nor published any literature on the subject."
He said that he has made critical examinations on the various incidents of epidermoid lung cancer, including the effects of heavy smoking, industrial exposure, and sex constitutional and occupational factors.
Pritchard, under cross-examination said: "I coughed heavily while smoking Chesterfields. When I smoked other brands I didn't cough so much. Then when I went back to Chesterfields, I started to cough heavily all over again."

Market Work on Minds as Well as Cash

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market works on the mind as well as the pocketbook. This year's drop in stock prices of 10 per cent and more leads some to see it as signalling a break in economic activity. Others doubt if it is that good a barometer, holding that the break was really a return to reality after a spree.
But the slide in prices does affect public thinking.
Many interpret it as meaning: "Those guys down there must have the inside dope." Others are nervous because they recall that in the more free-wheeling past a panic on Wall Street was the first inkling of a depression.
They forget three things: 1. There has been no panic and no hint of a coming depression. 2. Numerous safeguards on stock trading and on the movements of the general economy now make comparisons with the past of considerable less value. 3. Corporate affairs are much more a matter of public record now than a generation ago when only the insiders had the dope.
But the debate over how good a barometer the stock market is of coming business activity will go on for some time. Good or bad, it does affect confidence and spending plans, particularly those of businessmen setting inventory and investment policies.
A study of past performances of the stock market as a barometer is offered today in the April survey of the Morgan Guaranty Trust Co., New York.
It notes that over the years the curves of stock prices and business activity generally have tended to move in the same direction, with the stock curve usually ahead of the business one.
But it warns of two hazards in jumping to conclusions: 1. The relationship of the curves varies widely in specific cases; 2. There have been false signals in the stock market which business ignored.
Even in the big 1929 break, stock prices turned down quite a bit after business activity had. The market didn't lead. And in 1945 and 1946 stocks turned down and business activity continued to rise.
As an example of false signals, the survey cites the long price decline in the early 1930s which "was punctuated by a series of revivals, one of which continued for five months and was widely interpreted as forerunner of business recovery until it gave way to another price collapse."
A more recent example of the stock market's flunking out as a barometer came in the period from August 1956 to February 1957. The almost continuous seven months decline in stock prices didn't face business activity. Finally the market reversed itself and climbed back to its previous peak.
These admittedly are exceptions to the general rule of the close affinity of the market and business health.
But even so the bank economists hold: "Stock prices, being a resultant of many diverse forces, are at best a hazardous device for business forecasting; at worst they can be grossly misleading."

Gets Plane Down
NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Private pilot Robert Hamilton, 46, set his one-engine plane down at the North Little Rock Airport yesterday after the craft ran out of gas at an altitude of 200 feet.
Hamilton and his 13-year-old daughter Jan, the only occupants of the plane, were uninjured. The plane was damaged slightly when it hit a tree after the landing.
The pilot, a state Highway Department employee who lives in North Little Rock, said the fuel gauge read three-quarters full when the engine stopped.
Hamilton was making practice landings at the time.

Frankster and Brush
DUNFERMLINE, Scotland (AP) — A Frankster with a paint brush early today brightened up a statue of Andrew Carnegie, the local boy who made good in the U.S. Steel industry. Carnegie's coat was painted green, his vest a bright yellow, and his trousers were given pink stripes. The bronze statue was erected in 1914 by the people of Dunfermline, Carnegie's home town.

National League Starts Play Tuesday

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National League begins its long run for the pennant, a probable three-way struggle between the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers, San Francisco and Milwaukee, Tuesday while the American League has a week to go on its exhibition treadmill.

Major League baseball tries out its first split opening with Pittsburgh at Milwaukee, (2:30 p.m. EST), Philadelphia at Cincinnati, (2:30 p.m.) St. Louis at San Francisco, (4:30 p.m.) and, in a night game, the Chicago Cubs at Los Angeles, (11 p.m.).

The American League, with all eight clubs still playing games in Florida, that don't count, opens next Monday with the Washington Senators getting their traditional one-day trip on the rest of the league.

The Giants, favored to win the NL pennant after picking up pitching to back their power, also open their new 15-million-dollar ballpark, Candlestick Park, Manager Bill Rigney, his pitching staff padded with the acquisition of left-hander Billy O'Dell and right-handed reliever Billy Loes from Baltimore, picked his ace right-hander, Sam (Avalanche) Jones, to face the Cardinals' Larry Jackson.

Jones had a 21-15 record last year. Jackson was 14-13.

The Dodgers, with Manager Walter Alston picking right-hander Don Drysdale (17-13), will field the same line-up that swept the best-of-three playoff from Milwaukee and then whipped the Chicago White Sox in a six-game World Series. Right-hander Bob Anderson (12-13) will start for the Cubs as Charlie Grimm begins another year as manager.

It's Warren (The Wonder) Spahn for Milwaukee and new Manager Chuck Dressen against the Cardinals.

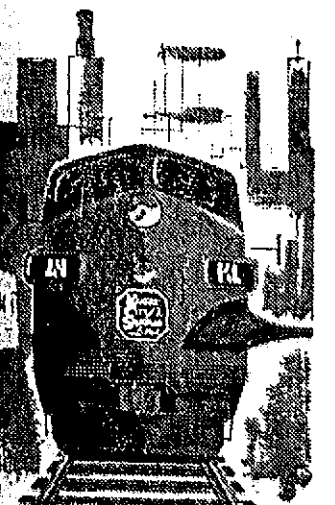

When to Fish or Hunt Solunar Tables

NCAA Boxing Facing a Rough Go

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Intercollegiate boxing, a target of sniping attacks by bitter opponents for many years, faced a rocky future today as a 22-year-old University of Wisconsin senior lay near death with a brain injury suffered in a national championship bout.

A dwindling crop of college boxing supporters braced for an expected renewal of demands for abolishment of the sport while Charlie Mohr of Merrick, N.Y., battled for his life in the University of Wisconsin Hospitals.

Mohr, a 1959 champion kayaker in defense of his title by Stu Bartell of San Jose State Saturday night, was reported in critical condition after emergency surgery for a brain hemorrhage.

The injury stunned officials, coaches and fighters from 17 colleges in the three-day 23rd annual National Collegiate Athletic Assn. tournament at the Wisconsin state fairgrounds.

"It makes me sick," said Coach Julie Menendez of San Jose State's team champions. "I didn't think Stu hit him that hard."

"This is ironic as Charlie was symbolic of all that is fine in college boxing," said Wisconsin's distraught Coach Vern Woodward. "He was a terrific boxer who seldom got hit."

Under constant fire by opponents, the sport has dwindled in colleges in virtually every section of the country except the Pacific West. Only a handful of the 60 entrants, with the exception of host Wisconsin, represented schools east of the Rockies.

Just a year ago, a 19-year-old Texas A & M sophomore, Curtis Raymond Lyons, died from injuries suffered in a fight with Fred White of Sam Houston College.

Pittsburgh right-hander Bob Friend, Spahn, 39, is the winningest pitcher still at work in the NL and the top all-time winner among left-handers in the league. He'll be after his 28th victory after putting away his fourth straight season of 20 or more (21-15) last year.

Friend, who shared the lead with Spahn for most victories in 1958 (22), then led the National in defeats last season, will be hoping for a better start than last year, when he lost his first seven and finished with an 8-19 record.

Cincinnati, opening at Crosley Field as usual, will send either Cal McLish or Jim Brosnan, both right-handers, against the Phillies and right-hander Robin Roberts. McLish, who last pitched in the NL in 1951 for the Cubs, was a 19-4 ace with Cleveland last season. Brosnan was 9-6.

This will be Roberts' 11th consecutive opening day assignment for the Phils. Robin (15-17) has won five, lost four of those in inaugurals, missing the decision in the other.

With help from the weatherman, the National League should set an opening day attendance record of 16,000-plus. The Dodgers, still playing in the Coliseum, may draw 50,000. The Giants expect a capacity crowd of 42,549 in their new park. Milwaukee hopes for 43,000 and Cincinnati 31,000.

Celtics Take World Pro Cage Title

BOSTON (AP)—The record-setting Boston Celtics gave basketball buffs at least two questions to ponder when they marked up their second straight world title Saturday.

Is this the No. 1 basketball team in history?

How long can the Celtics keep it up?

Boston wrapped up its second straight National Basketball Assn. title and third in four seasons with a 122-103 victory over St. Louis in the seventh game of the final playoffs.

It was the first time an NBA team had repeated as champions since Minneapolis, then in the George Mikan era, won three straight in 1952, 1953 and 1954.

Boston coach Red Auerbach snarled: "Mikan may have been the player of the half-century, but if he was around now he wouldn't even be No. 1 in the league. Bill Russell would run the legs off George."

"I think this ball club is the greatest aggregation ever assembled," said Auerbach.

Many critics agree. One point in favor is the record 59 victories chalked up by Boston in a 75-game schedule last season. The best Minneapolis did in its heyday was 49-22 in 1952-53.

Whatever their rank, the Celtics now must look toward next season, and there are several questions.

How long can the back court duo of Bob Cousy and Bill Sharman keep up their breakneck pace?

How long will Gene Conley continue his double role as a substitute centerman-center for the Celtics and pitcher for the baseball Philadelphia Phillies?

There seems to be no doubt that Russell, Tommy Heinsohn, Frank Ramsey and the Jones boys, Sam and K. C. will return but Sharman will be 34 next month and Cousy 32 before next season opens.

Conley, the tough, 6-foot-8 reserve, indicated in midseason that he may forgo his role as the only athlete competing on major league teams in two sports. At the end of the season, however, he said he wasn't considering retiring.

Broyles Has 73 Players Out for Spring Training

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Conch Frank Broyles takes 73 University of Arkansas football players into 18 days of concentrated spring training today.

Broyles hopes to accomplish two main objectives: increase the Razorback defensive effectiveness by 25 per cent and find out which T-learners and freshmen are going to be able to play next year on the second and third units.

Nine varsity regulars last year are being excused from spring drills. Broyles feels they don't need the instruction as badly as the youngsters who are going to have to fill several gaps in the second two units.

The month-long spring drills will be climaxed by two Red-White intra-squad games, one May 7 in Fayetteville and the other May 14, under the War Memorial Stadium lights in Little Rock.

The Porkers will work out this week, take a week off, then return for 12 more days of drills. They are allowed 18 under Southwest Conference rules.

Broyles figures the Hogs won't be able to control the ball as well next fall, what with senior backfield stars, Jim Mooty, James Monroe and Billy Kyser out of the picture. That is why he is stressing defensive effectiveness.

"We cut our opponents' scoring last year 50 per cent over 1958, but we couldn't stop them when we had to," Broyles said. "This year we don't dare leave inexperienced quarterbacks deep in our own territory. We've got to protect our field position with defense rather than offense."

The nine lettermen excused from spring drills are backs Lance Alworth, Jarrell Williams and Joe Paul Albert, tackles Marlin Epp and Paul Henderson, ends Steve Butler, Jim Gaston and Les Lettlinger and center Wayne Harris.

Last year Arkansas won nine of 11 games, tied for the Southwest Conference championship, and beat Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl game.

"This year we've got to completely reorganize our Wild Hog (second) unit from redirts, sophomores and squads," Broyles said. "That's a big problem."

Palmer Is Man of the Hour in Golf

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Golf's new man of the hour is a rugged, young Pennsylvanian with nerves of iron and a marshmallow heart.

Arnold Palmer thrilled a television gallery of millions Sunday by sinking pressure birdie putts on the final two holes for victory in the Masters tournament, then later told the man he beat he was sorry.

"I wanted to win more than anything, Ken," Palmer said to Ken Venturi, "but I'm truly sorry it had to be this way."

This is the picture of the powerful, 29-year-old battler of the fairways who has supplanted aging Ben Hogan and Sam Snead as the dominant personality in the world of golf.

On the course, he is the grim, relentless competitor. Off it, he is like an enthusiastic schoolboy—warm, thoughtful without conceit.

Venturi, a San Francisco youngster still wearing the scars of his famous last-round blowup in 1956, was in the clubhouse with a score of 283 and being interviewed as the apparent winner when Palmer strode to the 17th tee. Palmer needed a birdie on one of the last two holes to tie.

For Palmer, who knew what he must do, this was pressure at its tautest. Few gave him a chance. But he sank a 37-foot putt on the 17th, as the crowd went mad, and rolled in another from six feet on the 18th for a one-stroke victory.

"My God!" exclaimed British Open champion Gary Player of South Africa. "That man must have the innards of a lion."

Young Palmer went to school at Wake Forest, served in the Coast Guard, won the National Amateur championship in 1954 and turned pro a few months later. He became an immediate success on the tour.

Cardinals Exhibition Champions

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals are the National League champs of the exhibition baseball season and when Manager Solly Hemus cautions "don't underestimate us" it might be time to listen.

Seventh and woeful with a porous defense, erratic pitching and little batting punch in 1959, the rejuvenated Cards head into Tuesday's NL opener at San Francisco after ringing up an 18-8 spring record.

While the exhibition season is sometimes about as helpful as second guessing Sunday's weather, the Cards have been an eye-opening revelation to all who have seen them this spring.

There is added pitching in ex-Pirate Ronnie Kline and young Bob Miller, more sock with Daryl Spencer, Bob Nieman, Leon Wagner and a comebacking Sam Masiel, and a healthier defense with legs at first base instead of the outfield.

Add these to the few good carryover features from last year's club—pitchers like Larry Jackson, Ernie Broglio, Lindy McDaniel and Vinegar Bend Mizell, and steady hitters Joe Cunningham, Bill White and Ken Boyer, and there is reason for Hemus' optimism.

Asked which team has impressed him most this spring, Solly said: "My own club. We're 30 per cent better than last year. Don't underestimate us. We're coming."

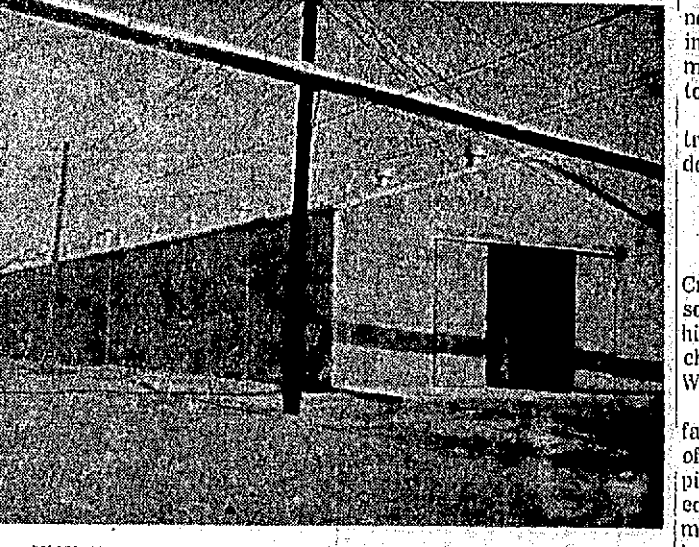

Broglio (7 innings) and Gibson handled the pitching and Masiel had three hits Sunday as the Cards posted victory No. 18, 2-0 over the Chicago Cubs at Las Vegas. The Cubs played without ace shortstop Ernie Banks, who suffered a bloody nose in a pre-game workout.

In other Sunday games, which wound up the warm-up season for the Nationals, Los Angeles whipped San Francisco 8-4 at Sacramento. Cincinnati's first-inning runs clipped Milwaukee 4-2 at Louisville. Pittsburgh edged Kansas City 3-2 at Fort Myers, Fla. Baltimore blanked Philadelphia 5-0 at Miami, the New York Yankees stopped the Chicago White Sox on a one-batter 11-0 at Tampa. Cleveland edged Boston 9-8 in New Orleans, and Washington beat Detroit 5-4 at Lakeland, Fla.

ALTHOUGH THE OFFICE IS APPROXIMATELY ONE year old, it is still considered new. Modern in design, it contains sufficient space for all of the office personnel.

THE WAREHOUSE COMPLETED LATE IN 1959 DUE TO the expanding business enjoyed by this plant. A new press is being installed and when ready for operation will make possible another size board that is much in demand at this time. 1959 was the best year in the history of the company, according to plant officials of Plaswood.

Conway Captures U of A Events

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Conway track men won eight of 10 first places and set five new records Saturday in winning the Class AAA-AA division of the annual Arkansas High School Relays.

Sprinter Wilbur Owen of Conway set a record of 20.7 seconds in the 100-yard low hurdles and anchored three relay teams which set standards. Owen also won the 100-yard dash in 10.3 seconds.

Conway teams set a 44.2 record in the 400-yard relay, a 1:33.2 mark in the 800-yard relay and a 3:39.7 record in the mile relay.

Conway had 78 5-6 points. Fort Smith was second with 65 1-3 and Fayetteville third with 42½.

Fordyce won the A division and Greenland took honors in Class B of the 28-team meet.

LRC, Hughes Win Ouachita Relays

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP)—Little Rock Central and Hughes won team championships in the Ouachita High School Relays Saturday.

Central garnered 69½ points, nearly half of them with victories in the 800-yard, mile medley and mile relays. Hughes had 41 points to cop the Class A-B division. Texarkana was second to Central in the AAA-AA division. Eldorado was second in Class A-B.

Won't Defend Title

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Richard Crawford, of El Dorado and Jacksonville, Ark., won't be defending his national intercollegiate golf championship when play begins Wednesday in the 1960 NCAA meet.

Crawford, 1959 NCAA champ, failed to qualify as the University of Houston, NCAA team champion for the past four years, selected its team for the four-day tournament.

Night-Club Blast Is Investigated

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP)—Debris from a bomb-torn Jackson County nightclub will be sent to Washington, D. C., for examination by Federal Bureau of Investigation experts, Sheriff Ernest Dyke said yesterday.

A home-made bomb exploded Saturday night at the B and I club four miles north of Swifton on Highway 67, injuring one man and leaving $500 worth of damage.

About 100 people were in the club when the bomb was tossed onto the roof. Earl Scoggin, about 30, of Jonesboro, was struck in the back by splinters. He was treated at a hospital and released.

Bob King, owner of the club, said the blast tore a hole in the roof, shattered lights and caused considerable other damage. He said he knew of no reason for the bombing.

The first printed American newspaper was "The Boston News-Letter" in 1704.
